BRITISH MINERS FLY RED FLAG

Thousands of Strikers Join In Attack on Police

WORKERS STOP PUMPS

Disorders Reported at Several Points —Troops Being Concentrated—Premier Defends His Action

London, April 6.—Rioting broke out last night in connection with the coal strike in Cowdenbeath, in Fifeshire, Scotland, according to a Central News dispatch from Dunifermlin.

The police attacked the strikers with batons, but the strikers hoisted the red flag and besieged the Police Station. The situation is assuming a critical aspect, the dispatch says.

The trouble arose when the strikers captured the under-manager of a mine who refused to cease manning the pumps. The police responded to a call for aid and rescued the man, but the police were surrounded by the miners whose forces had by this time been increased to thousands.

The stoppage of all coal mining in Great Britain is an accomplished fact and the question the public is considering anxiously last night is whether the paralysis will extend to the railways and other means of transport and even spread among the workers generally.

Both Houses of Parliament discussed the situation yesterday without taking any steps to relieve it. The National Transport Workers' Federation delegates conferred without reaching a decision as to whether to call a strike in that line in support of the miners. The three branches of the Triple Alliance, the railway men, the transport workers and the miners will meet separately tomorrow which promises to be decisive day.

The most serious feature of the position continue to be the threat of ruin of the mines by flooding. The miners took strong measures in several places yesterday against the owners, who are protecting their property. There was a successful attack on the guardian of an important mine near Edinburgh, Scotland. A 1,000 miners marched to the pit head of the Ocean Collieries in Rhondda, Wales, and successfully demanded the withdrawal of all officials working the pumps. The referees in several towns have refused the applications of striking miners for unemployment pay.

Four hundred delegates, representing 35 unions and 500,000 workers, attended the meeting of the transport men's delegates, which was preceded by a session of their executive committee.

The Government is concentrating troops in Kensington Gardens in the fashionable West End district, supposedly in connection with plans to maintain order in the event of strike disturbances. This location was a huge supply depot during the railway strike of 1919 and probably will serve as the nucleus for such work if the transport men support the miners. Soldiers were going into camp there today equipped with arms, stell helmets and full wartime paraphernalia.

The big park presented a scene of animation with tents going up, lorries unloading food and other supplies and squads moving at sharp commands from their officers. While this precautionary measure is being taken there is no ground to believe disorders are likely.

In rioting at the Hart Hill Collieries, near Edinburgh, where 500 miners armed with pit props and stones attacked and overwhelmed the police and volunteer pump workers, five policemen and several civilians were injured, while plant was wrecked and adjacent haystacks set afire, In West Benhar, Scotland, similar scenes occurred. The police were called in but were overpowered.

In several other places striking miners forced volunteers to cease work.

Premier Lloyd George, replying in the House of Commons today in the debate on the coal situation, declared that what all wanted was to arrive at pacification in a very dangerous dispute, if it could be done in a way compatible with the interests of the nation as a whole. He contended, however, that subsidizing a great industry out of taxation was wrong in principle and completely indefensible, especially at the present time, in view of the heavy taxation and the condition of the exchequer.

Uphold Constitution

That Is True 100 Per Cent Americanism Says Dr. J. J. Walsh

The basis of Americanism is represented by the constitution of the United States and that document is Providential, said Dr. J. J. Walsh, medical director of Fordham University, New York, who spoke last night at the Lyceum Hall under the auspices of the national organization of the Knights of Columbus on their program of reconstruction work.

The most important thought just now, said the speaker, is that are we going to witness the beginning of the end of white civilization. The speaker declared he had no confidence in Europe being able to take care of itself. "We here in America are the only ones who can save it. I think we are going to have Americanization stand behind us."

The speaker denounced the price boosters during the war and said they made it on the wives and families of the men and told of the untold suffering and death caused by these grafters.

Education alone the speaker said is not sufficient to make a good American. Well trained principals he said are the things. He described mutual help among the animal and insect kingdoms. That the people during the war were compelled to graft in their struggle for existence he declared pure bunk and concluded by declaring that the only way to be 100 per cent American, is by upholding the constitution of the United States.

The speaker was introduced by W. H. P. Dermond, and music was furnished by an orchestra.

State Federation of Labor Elects All Old Officers Except One

Lynchburg, Va., April 6.—Old officers of the Virginia federation of labor, with one exception, were re-elected yesterday when the second day's sessions of the convention were held in the auditorium of the Jobbers' Overall plant. Resolutions were adopted pledging renewed loyalty to Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor and condemning the so-called anti-Gompers campaign being conducted by the Hearst newspapers. The federation's constitution was amended so as to provide

ORIGINAL PLAY TO BE PRODUCED BY HIGH SCHOOL

Before the close of the school session the Senior Class of the Alexandria High School will have the pleasure and satisfaction of presenting a play written by one of themselves, Miss Mary Asbury. This should prove a most interesting event as it will be the first time in the history of the High School that a play has been both written and produced by High School talent.

Jack Dinwiddie, who so ably staged "Miss Hobbs," will stage the coming play while Miss Ficklin will coach and direct.

Committee Named by Directors to Consider Proposition

TO REPORT IN OCTOBER

Chairmen Appointed For Various Committees—Reports Submitted on Work Past Two Months

Shall the Alexandria Y. M. C. A. have permanent quarters and full equipment? This is the question that the board of directors of the "Y", among other important matters, discussed at the regular monthly meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, last night. Many men have asked the board to consider a completely equipped association and President C. C. Lamond last night appointed C. F. Holden, Arthur M. King and Chas. E. Dare a commission to study the advisability of attempting to place the association in a permanent home.

The commission will study the matter from every angle and report to the board at its October meeting. The "Y" in this city for the past year has been doing a community trailroad work on a very extensive scale which has attracted the attention of association leaders throughout the country. Whether it will continue on this basis will be largely determined by the report of the special commission appointed at the meeting last night

The board meeting last night was unusually well attended and one of the most enthusiastic ever held by the board. President Lamond appointed the standing committees for the coming year, which should have been ap-

IN MEMORIAM

WINDSOR—In sad and loving memory of our dear beloved son and brother, EDWARD THOMAS WINDSOR, Naval Aviation Forces, who was killed in France two years ago today. He lost his life by a hand-grenade which exploded while doing rebuilding work in a little village called Brebiers.

He little thought when leaving home
That he would ne'er return,
That he so soon in death would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
If only we could have been near,
To bid him last farewell,
The blow would not have been so hard,
To those he loved so well.

Successful Dance

Affair Given by Machinists of Naval Torpedo Station Last Night

The machinists organization of the Torpedo Station held their first annual dance and entertainment in the Elks' Hall last night and it proved to be an enoyable affair. The success of their first annual dance has greatly encouraged the members of this new and growing labor organization in this city and it is expected that they will contribute considerably to the social life of Alexandria in the future.

The dancing started promptly at 8.30 p. m. and continued until midnight with a short intermission. During the evening the dancers were entertained by a program of vocal solos which added greatly to the success of the evening. The signers taking part in the program were as follows.

Talbot Haslett, soprano solo, "Mother Machree"; Fred Pettit, baritone solo, "Margie"; Rocco Verri, tenor solo, "Dreaming"; recitation, Arthur J. Rhodes.

The committee who deserves a lot of credit for their work in connection with the affair follows:

Andrew Kane, chairman; William S Walsh, floor manager; James Clarke, George Hayden, John A. Dolacker, Al. Summerfield Park A. Kersey.

Mr. Verri is a machinist at the station and is possessed of an excellent tenor voice which was the hit of the evening. He is a very popular member of the organization and his friends predict a bright future for him if he can be induced to leave the trade for the concert stage. Mr. Rhodes is also a member whose talent in recitations is well known to the people of the city. It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of those present that the machinists are some real entertainers. Mr. Verri received his musical education in Boston and New York City.

AUSTRIA SOUGHT PEACE IN 1918

Emperor Charles Wrote Wilson Accepting His Principles

TERMS WERE ASKED

Move Blocked as Mysteriously as Was Prince Sixtus Attempt—Reason For It Unknown.

Paris, April 6.—Everyone remembers the sensation caused by the revelation of secret peace negotiations opened in March, 1917, by Prince Sixtus, of Bourbon-Parma, an officer in the Belgian Army, at the instigation of his brother-in-law, Emperor Charles, of Austria-Hungary, It is now learned that this was not the only private attempt made to negotiate peace, but that early in 1918 President Wilson also corresponded with the Austrian monarchy about possible peace terms.

Charles is said to have sent to the President, through a mutual friend a letter in which he outlined his views regarding the principles of peace laid down by Mr. Wilson in his speech of February 12. The letter was dated February 17, Early in March the Emperor received President Wilson's answer.

Charles, in his letter, expressed complete acceptance of the principles that lasting peace must be based on justice. He suggested, in connection with the President's contention, that peoples and provinces should not be moved about by rulers like pawns in a game; that future frontiers might be decided by friendly agreement between individual states. He attributed the greatest importance to the necessity of stabilizing conditions in Europe and added that the President's wards "inspire me with the greatest hopefulness that we shall be able to come to an agreement."

Charles, in his note, talked of a complete renunciation of annexation claims, the emancipation of Belgium, the giving to Serbia of access to the sea. He suggested that these questions and other details might be cleared up at a preliminary discussion which would prepare the way for the Peace Conference. He added:

"I should like also, for my part, to express how important I feel it would be if one of my representatives could discuss with the President of the United States such methods as might prevent new conflagrations."

The Emperor's note said that there

Police Court News

Gun Toter Given Four Months—Other Cases

Only four hours ago I bought this pistol from a stranger and paid him $3.50 for it, said Frank Gibbs, colored, a non resident, arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Policemen Reid and Bell found Gibbs loitering near Union station at three o'clock this morning The prisoner said he was in search of work. Justice Snow decided he should remain in Alexandria for four months and he will get his freedom around Indpendence Day.

Improper remarks alleged to have been made by Harrison Morrison, colored, to the wife of Charles Harris, called for action and Harris weilded a razor, stabbing Morrison in the leg. Morrison procured a warrant and Chief Goods and Policean Nowland and Harris hailed into court. Justice Snow remanded Harris and took the case under advisement.

Henry Leach, colored, lost his job and owed a board bill which the woman complaining said amounted to about $3. Leach was out of work. He also was without funds. The court decided to give him reasonable time and Leach was released with the understanding that he would settle by Saturday.

Three colored men giving the names of James McConnell ,Marceo McConnell and Almo Samuels, all non residents, arrested by Policemen Durrer and Magner, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited $10 collateral each.

Amanda Harris, Edward Bryant and Abe Williams, colored, arrested by Sgt. Campbell and Policemen Lawrence Padgett and Welker for disorderly conduct. The court fined Bryant and Harris $5 each, and Williams was acquitted.

Owners of cows permitting them to roam, at large, were ordered to pay cost of impounding them. The cows were gathered in by Policemen Magner and Durrer.

All Urged To Give

Ireland Asks For Help For Starving In Name of Charity And Humanity

The Irish Relief movement knows neither politics nor religion. It asks only in the name of charity and humanity a helping hand to the people of Ireland now faced with the grim horror of death by starvation. In every part of Ireland today thousands of men, women and children are homeless and hundreds of thousands are hungry. For months past the great mass of the people of Ireland have been kept alive by the food given to them by their more fortunate neighbors and friends. Every day the conditions are becoming worse. The resources of the charitable in Ireland are exhausted the food supply is gone. Unless aid comes promptly and generously from outside the population of Ireland will in a short time inevitably perish of famine. Persons who have visited Ireland during the winter months persons who had grown accustomed to the frightful realities of war and its consequences on the Continent of Europe and in Asia, in famine stricken Austria and Armenia, have borne witness that no where is distress greater, nowhere is aid more urgently needed than in Ireland.

Already America has responded to this need. A committee of men of nation wide reputation and integrity has been drawn together to deal with the situation in Ireland. Already American relief workers are in the field. The American Society of Friends the Quakers have added another wreath to their crown of glory in the service of humanity by undertaking the actual work of distributing relief among the stricken people of Ireland. This fact alone is sufficient evidence of the need and if the character of the task in which the good people of Alexandria are asked to assist. The reports which these American relief workers send back regarding the conditions of destitution and suffering with which they are confronted make it imperative to see that their efforts will not be frustrated by lack of funds that their hands will not be tied because they are not supported in the labors.

In Dublin alone thousands of little children have subsisted week in and week out for months on one meal a day, a meal which consists of one slice of bread and one cup of cocoa; schools have ceased to be places of instruction for youth and have been turned into relief stations; day by day lines of hungry famine stricken children form outside these schools to receive the little dole of charity which keeps them alive. What is true of Dublin, the Washington of Ireland, is true of every part of Ireland. Everywhere there is distress everywhere, there is unemployment, everywhere there is hunger. This distress will be relieved, this famine averted if Americans do as they have always done when appealed to in the name and in the interest of humanity, if they are true to the traditions which have mad of this country the refuge and the hope of the stricken of every land. All that the Alexandria Committee asks is that all will contribute to this worthy cause as generously as they can, that they will do as they have done so often before give until it hurts, that they will bear in mind that on their generosity depends the lives of the people of a whole nation, that what American hearts are prompted to give will be distributed by American hands, that they will remember that Ireland in times gone by, gave out of her plenty to America in her hour of distress and that now when conditions are reversed, America will not forget.

MRS. M.T. WISHMAN TELLS OF S.A. WORK

Seek Establishment of Advisory Board Here

TUESDAY WILL ELECT

Salvation Army Through Home Service Bureau Hopes to Broaden the Scope of Its Activities

A goodly number of Alexandria's representative citizens assembled at the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce last night to hear Mrs. Mary T. Wishman tell of the wonderful work being accomplished by the Salvation Army over this country and to discuss and determine the adaptability of this organization to the needs of this city.

Instances were cited of other places in this State where the Salvation Army is handling some of the delicate and difficult welfare problems of the city and it was deemed advisable to form about this Salvation Army Corps in Alexandria a group of people who are interested vitally in the aggravated forms of welfare work and who can see that through the services of the army here, with their co operation in the way of advice and support, this work may be taken over and inestimable good done.

The formation of the board is for a two fold purpose.

Primarily, it seeks to render more accessible the service which this organization through its various institutions, homes and activities extends.

Secondly, a board will protect the community from the cost of maintaining some relief activities, which might in any manner conflict or duplicate which the local board is able to perform.

Another consideration which lend encouragement to the community organization plan, was recognition that under the Home Service maintenance plan, the individual cities and communities are assessed a proportionate amount to maintain the peace time program of the Salvation Army.

Members of the local board will inform themselves as to the scope and purposes of the Home Service Bureau of the Army, and in this manner will be able to represent and protect the city's interests more intelligently.

The maximum benefits should result from the establishment of the Advisory Board. The Home Service Department of the Salvation Army are capably conducted. Through its various bureaus, the organization is doing a great work and access to them will provide a satisfactory solution to some of the problems which develop in local welfare activities.

It is the hope and aim of the organization to reach the very source of the great social problems which developed to help control the strong current of life, which at times grows turbulent.

S. W. Pitts presided.

A permanent organization will be fromed next Tuesdap afternoon when officers will be chosen.

Home Building. There are two recommendations in the report of the Senate reconstruction committee which may be adopted by congress and prove helpful in the readjustment now in progress. One is an amendment to the Federal Reserve act which will permit national banks to make long term loans of their savings and time deposits. The other is the authorization of district home loan banks with power to issue bonds and make loans for home building operations.

The report states there is a shortage of 1,000,000 homes in the country, a fact which is generally appreciated and is accounted for by the increase in urban population and by the cessation of building operations during the past few years. It also is realized that the greatest impediment to a resumption of building now is high interest rates which prevent those who have acquired building lots from constructing houses on them because loans are not available except upon prohibitive terms.

If the national banks were to make loans for home building instead of sending their funds to financial centers to finance speculative operations, it would help the situation immensely. As for the suggestion of the establishment of home banks, there is a precedent for them in the farm loan banks which congress has authorized. If the government is willing to finance farmers in buying and improving their land, it is argued that it should be equally willing to finance residents of the cities and towns in acquiring their own homes. Legislation along these lines is expected to be presented in this congress.

Seized Liquors. The decision of the United States circuit court in South Carolina that the Volstead act takes precedence over the internal revenue laws will not result in any very large quantity of liquor being made available for thirsty humanity, according to the opinion of John F. Kramer, commissioner of prohibition. Mr. Kramer says that very litte whisky will have to be returned to its owners under this decision, though he is unable to give amounts.

It seems that most of the liquor seized by prohibition enforcement agents was under the Volstead act and this will remain in custody. Some was taken by internal revenue agents for violation of the revenue laws and this probably will have to be restored to its owners.

If this proves a correct estimate of the facts the decision which at first was hailed as a victory for the wets, will give them few practical results. However, until the full import of the decision is learned and there has been an inventory of seized liquors the effects of the court's action will remain in doubt.

BETHLEHEM STEEL BANS PRICE-CUTTING CAMPAIGN

Newark, N. J., April 6.—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation will avoid indulging in any aggressive price cutting campaign, President E. G. Grace told the stockholders at the annual meeting here yesterday.

Speaking of trade readjustments, he expressed the opinion that America has nothing to fear at present from foreign countries on steel orders. He admitted, however, that Germany, on account of the rate of exchange and its control of labor and wages, "could be a strenuous competitor," if that country producing at its own rates.

Energy

ARE you a woman? And is your home electrically wired?

Then you know the magic of washing, ironing, sewing, cooking, cleaning and keeping your house warm or cool or light through electricity.

It's no new story to you. You are enthusiastic about it.

Enthusiasm and energy are running mates—one dies without the other.

The energy to feed your enthusiasm is no longer wrung from you.

It comes from the big electric light and power plant in your community—a flood of it—instantaneous, tireless, limitless. It is brought to you through an orderly maze of cables, conduits and wires, and is at your service by the simple act of putting a plug in a lampsocket or an outlet, and of pressing a button.

Anyone can buy this energy. So it is called "public."

It serves to make life better, easier, happier, healthier. So it is called a "utility."

Therefore, the power plant that drives your cleaner, that heats your shining cooking appliances, that lights your home, comes under the head of a "public utility."

Such great utilities are privately owned by plain citizens like all of us who have faith in the force called electricity. These utilities are, owing to their vital import to the country, under governmental direction.

Insurance companies have hundreds of millions invested in the different electric light and power companies; banks have loaned them money, and 1,450,000 individual Americans have put millions of their savings into this great industry.

It is these people of faith, business instinct and enthusiasm who stand back of you as you clean and cook and wash and iron electrically; who, in a way, guard your lamp at night, seeing that the light never fails. They deserve your co-operation in return for that service.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaint with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they eliminate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear coated brain and tongue, relieve sick headache and biliousness. 10c and 30c a box.

OFFICERS ELECTED

per diem pay for officers, the minimum being $10 a day and expenses while actually on duty.

The place of holding the next convention is to be selected and honorary vice presidents and a legislative committee chosen today.

J. C. Caylor, of Norfolk, state organizer, withdraw as a candidate for re-election when Miss Lillie M. Barbour, of Roanoke, was placed in nomination for that office. Mr. Caylor declared he "could not oppose a lady." Miss Barbour was then elected and all other officers re-elected by acclamation, as follows:

President, John Hopkins Hall, Jr., of Portsmouth; first vice president, W. H. Furlow, of Norfolk; secretary-treasurer, John Gribbon, of Newport News; sergeant-at-arms, James F. O'Connor, of Portsmouth.

Several changes in the federation's constitution were approved, the most important being an enlargement of the executive board from eight to nine members. The president, first vice president and secretary are ex officio members of the board and the constitution, as amended, provided that six instead of five others shall be elected directly by the convention.

One of the reasons for the enlargement of the board, it was said, was to obtain more efficient organizations in Richmond and Roanoke, where the loss of membership last year was heaviest. The secretary's financial report had shown the federation to be in the best condition in its history, with an unexpended balance of $3,000 on hand. When two or three delegates then opposed the proposition to add another member to the executive board because of the additional expense of about $100 a year, a determined fight started. Delegates continued jumping to their feet and shouting for recognition so rapidly that the president had difficulty in keeping order. There was a great outpouring of oratory against organized labor being "tight fisted" in running its own affairs, and one member declared that if the federation could get back the members it lost last year the money would be well spent if teh treasury was emptied. The peak of the labor movement in Virginia in point of numbers was reached in 1918, it was said, and members now have their work cut out for them to let the organization go to pieces during the "lean years." The proposal to add another member to the executive board was approved, and six members were then elected as follows:

Miss Fannie Armichael, of Lynchburg; James R. Stewart, of Portsmouth; W. E. Akers, of Roanoke; Harry D. Moffett, of Richmond; W. P. Kerrick, of Alexandria, and Frank S. Lyons, of Newport News. All old members were re-elected and Mr. Moffett was named to fill the place created by the enlargement of the board. Miss Carmichael led all candidates by receiving the votes of all delegates taking part in the election. Others placed in nomination but who were defeated in the balloting were Elmer Tull, of Alexandria, and W. C. Tretemore, of Norfolk.

pointed at the March meeting, but on account of the illness of Secretary Wallace, were delayed until last night.

H. B. Caton was appointed chairman of the physical committee; the education committee, C. E. Dare; boys work, Arthur M. King; religious work, N. S. Greenaway; economics, Urban Lambert; retirement fund, Samuel W. Pitts; social, John G. Graham; foreign work, Wm. Campbell; finance, Chas. F. Holden. The committee chairmen will have their full committees ready for confirmation at the May meeting of the board.

The general secretary's report was one of the features of the meeting and revealed tremendous amount of work accomplished in the two months covered by the report. Under educational work was reported the teacher training class with an enrollment of ninety-eight which was fostered by the association and the Alexandria Sunday School Association; the educational work being done for the three troops of Pioneers in the city; the educational motion pictures for children being shown at the Chamber of Commerce twice weekly, and health talks being given in the shops. It was also stated that the local association has united with the United Y. M. C. A. Schools, which links it yitally with the greatest educational system in the world.

Under physical work was reported the physical work for the Pioneers, the health talks mentioned above; the possibilities of a Sunday School Baseball League, and the recently organized gymnasium class for women. The secretary also stated that he was co-operating with the recreation league of the Naval Torpedo Station in planning its summer program. Plans were also discussed for greatly enlarging teh association's public service along playground and recreation al lines. It is believed that the association will develop its community service to the point where it will actually meet some of the most pressing needs.

The general secretary's offer to place physical training in the Alexandria High School was discussed, but it was learned that no reply has yet been received from the school board

The religious work report revealed a great deal of work constantly being done by the association's religious forces. Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison has been speaking each Wednesday at noon to the men of the Naval Torpedo station, but this month will address the men at the transfer shed at the Potomac yards. Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson has been addressing the shop meeting at noon at the transfer shed but this month will speak at the Torpedo station.

Dr. Allison and the general secretary have been conducting the shop meetings at the Southern Railroad round house, Fridays at noon, while Rev. W. W. Pippin and the secretary have conducted the religious meetings at the machine shop at the Potomac yards Thursdays at noon. These meetings are to be continued and others will be added.

A great deal of social and general work was included in the report which covered a variety of work undertaken by no other organization of its kind. Secretary Wallace's year concludes with the month of April and he was unanimously re-elected to serve the association for another year.

SPRING REDUCTION IN PRICES ON COAL:

We are today reducing our prices on both Anthracite and Bituminous coal and will be glad to enter orders for Spring delivery.

The mines claim their present prices are as low as their cost of production will permit and that Anthracite coal will be higher by Fall.

The preparation and the quality of the coal we are now receiving is better than it has been for several years.

The freight is still high but there seems very little likelihood of a reduction shortly.

We have been able to reduce our cost of handling and our trade gets the benefit of this saving.

It is not possible for us to know whether this is the best time to buy your winters coal, but we are sure that a reasonable tonnage will have to be mined, transported and delivered through the Spring and Summer months to avoid a coal shortage and high prices next Fall and Winter.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

IT is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

Just as she prepares herself for it, so will most favorable conditions prevail when her child is born.

MOTHER'S FRIEND is a balm for the nerves, an intensley penetrating lubricant that softens the muscles, relaxes tension of the delicate organism involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

The Dreadnaught Baseball Club will open the season Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on Baggett's field, opposing the fast Red Sox team of Washington.

All candidates are requested to be on hand for practice tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the above grounds.

Prospects are bright for a fast team this season to represent Alexandria on the athletic map, and it is earnestly hoped that a large crowd will be on hand Saturday afternoon to encourage the local boys in their initial start.

The Destroyer A. C., will open its baseball season Saturday with a game with the Virginia A. C. of Rosslyn, Va. The Virginia's recently held the Clarendon A. C., to a 9 to 4 count. This game is sure to be hotly contested, as the Destroyers have been working hard this season and expect to give all the junior teams around here a hot race for the championship. The game will start at 3 o'clock sharp, on Baggett's field. Come out and see the home team in action.

The Destroyers have to have a game every Saturday through the season if the public will come out and help them along.

All members of the Destroyer baseball team are requested to report on the High School grounds at 5:15 this evening for practice.

N. Y. Police Get Drastic Orders To Enforce State Liquor Law

New York, April 6.—Another campaign to make New York "bone dry" was launched yesterday. This time it is Police Commissioner Enright's 11,000 men who are called upon to clamp down the lid and then sit on it.

With the signing yesterday by Governor Miller of the State law putting prohibition enforcement directly up to local authorities campaign plans were drawn at police headquarters and issued yesterday from the Chief Inspector's office.

Persons caught violating the new State law are to be treated as ordinary felons, said the police orders. They are to be arrested, arrigned before a city magistrate and, if requested, held for a grand jury. Patrolmen were ordered to apply immediately to a city magistrate for a search warrant whenever they learned liquor was being sold. They also were directed to search every vehicle suspected of transporting liquor, to seize any wet goods found and to arrest the drivers.

The police were ordered to proceed in every case in which a Federal agent was not already at work. Local officers were told to demand credentials before allowing the Federal agents to proceed.

VIRGINIA WAR HISTORY

Headquarters of the Virginia Department has issued an appeal to all ex-service men and patriotic organizations for cooperation with the Virginia War History Commission in having ex-service men to fill out and return to the war history commission the questionnaires being used by that commission in obtaining the military records of Virginians. Only a small portion of the records of the Virginians who saw service have been obtained, according to the Legion, despite the fact that this information is of the greatest importance

DISABLED SOLDIERS

An appeal to all patriotic citizens to bring pressure to bear on Congress for the passage of the American Legion Legislative program for the relief of disabled veterans of the World War has been mad by F. W. Galbaith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, according to Virginia Department Hedquarters of the Legion.

The measures which the Legion is backing in the special session of congress are the Rogers-Capper bill for the consolidation of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Public Health Service and Rehabilitation Division of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and the adoption of a definite hospital program; the Wason bill for the establishment of reginal branch offices of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance; the Stevenson bill to put disabled emergency officers on the same basis for retirement as regular army officers, and the Kenyon-Fess bill, which amends the Vocational Training Act to provide training for Americans disabled in allied armies.

AUSTRIA SOUUGHT PEACE IN 1918

was not the slightest difference of opinion between the President's and the Austrian points of view on the question of general disarmament to avoid future wars. The communication concluded by saying:

"Between the principles enunciated by the President on the one hand and the views held by myself on the other, I believe that every shade of agreement exists to enable us to hope for results from direct conversations."

President Wilson's reply, which was about 500 words long, expressed pleasure that Charles was in entire agreement with him and asked that the Emperor express himself in greater detail concerning some of his proposed terms. He asked particularly what arrangement Charles proposed in the Balkans, what he would grant to Italy and under whose protection, in his opinion, the non-Turkish elements of the Ottoman Empire should be put.

The President's note concluded:

"I must emphasize the fact (if such assurance is necessary) that I in no way seek to gain any strategic benefit, no advantage of any kind, but desire a fair arrangement which would give to the world a just and lasting peace."

Thus began the peace negotiations between President Wilson and Austrian monarch, but whether they were continued and if not, why not, remains a mystery. Charles probably answered this plain invitation from the President, but possibly the reply was intercepted and never reached Mr. Wilson. Presumably, it was suppressed by officials at the Austrian court.

The Emperor's attempts to negotiate peace through Prince Sixtus and President Wilson were both mysteriously frustrated. Count Czernin, former Austrian Foreign Minister, refers significantly to the Emperor's note to President Wilson when in his memoirs he says:

"It is clear that efforts toward peace were made, but they were frustrated for some reason unknown to me."

WOMEN LOSE DAMAGE SUITS

Steamship Company Held Not Liable For Search by Cuban Police

Washington, April 6.—The New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, defendant in two damage suits filed in 1915 by Josephine Murphy and A. V. Lally for $16,000 in damages each for indignities alleged to have been suffered in Havana harbor, when their cabins were searched for stolen jewelry by Cuban police, won its case in the District Court of Appeals yesterday.

The Court held that the women, who were first-class passengers on the steamship Havana, which sailed from New York on Oct. 25, 1913, were not entitled to damages against the steamship company because the latter could not be held responsible for actions of the Cuban police, who boarded the vessel after receiving radiogram from a Cuban woman on the ship that her jewels had been stolen and that she suspected the plaintiffs.

The case originated in the District Court, where a jury rendered a verdict for the defendant company on the ground that the liability of the ship or the owners thereof ended with the refusal of the Captain to allow the Cuban woman to conduct a personal search of the cabins.

"The Court also held that neither the Captain nor the owners of the ship had any right to stop the offended woman from sending the radiogram to the Cuban police, nor could the Captain make any other than a verbal protest against his ship being boarded by the police.

BAR 'SHIMMYING DEMONS' AT PITTSBURGH DANCES

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 6.—All dances classed as improper and naughty will be barred on the public dance floors of Pittsburgh that are controlled by the dancing masters banded in the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of Dancing. More than 400 of these teachers in meeting yesterday scored the "shimmying demons" and "lizards of various kinds," who make it a business to attend public dances for an exposition of their talent.

A committee composed of J. W. Kinney, Frank Foreman and Vincent Secton, was appointed to formulate regulations to prohibit attendance of men and women who do not comply with the association's rules for dancing. A censor will be in every dance hall controlled by the association. Dancers inclined to "naughty" steps will be forced to "dance that way" at home—if at all.

DANGER SIGNALS

Headache, colds, nausea, blues, mental depression—these are not only painful and annoying, but they are danger signals.

A great majority of these passing illnesses are due to self-poisoning resulting from constipation. Unless you keep your system free from decaying food waste, you start continuous poisoning inside. Ultimately Bright's disease, rheumatism, gout, diabetes, pernicious anemia, and the like, may result.

Pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force and irritate the bowels, and make constipation a habit.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

HOW TO AVOID IT

Colds are due to germs. No one can prevent the germs from getting into your nose and throat. But you can help keep plenty of strong, vigorous "antibodies" in your blood to fight and kill off the nasty "cold germs" before they do very many harm.

To develop these germ destroying "anti-bodies" properly, you must have plenty of pure, rich, red blood and a strong, vigorous condition—in fact, this is the best preventative against almost any disease.

If you are weak, nervous or run-down, or subject to colds, taking chances. One day you may develop serious throat, bronchial or lung trouble or perhaps pneumonia and you may go off like a shot. Therefore commence to enrich your blood and fortify yourself against "disease germs" today. To build more and better blood and make stronger nerves, there is nothing superior to NUXATED IRON as it contains organic iron like the iron in your blood combined with a product representing the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force to feed the nerves. Assisted iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. It often increases the bodily and mental vigor, strength and endurance in two weeks' time.

Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually. It has been highly endorsed by former United States Senators, U. S. Army Generals, many physicians and prominent men. Even the Pope at Rome mentioned it favorably in a communication to the Proprietor of the Pharmacy Normale of Paris.

Satisfaction guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Ottawa, April 6.—Captain J. A. Leroyer, who blazed the trail through the Northwest for the American Army airplanes that flew to Alaska last year, was killed yesterday in an airplane accident at Camp Borden, according to reports received here.

Captain Leroyer made an enviable record in the Canadian air force in the war and was officially credited with crashing seven enemy planes. He leaves a widow and two children

Harding to Examine Writing

Chicago, April 6.—The life size portrait of President Warren G. Harding, which occupied the position of honor in the home of "Cousin Everett" until it was seized by Secret Service men, was shipped to Washington yesterday.

"Best wishes to a fellow kinsman," is the inscription on the picture which is to be scrutinized by the President. The signature of President Harding below the inscription is said by "Cousin Everett" to be genuine, but it will be closely examined by the President to ascertain whether or not he wrote it.

Some of the Secret Service men believe the signature of the President is genuine, but that the inscription is a forgery. They maintain that when the person who forged that greeting is found they will be able to uncover a nation wide organization which sought to capitalize the name of Harding and used "Cousin Everett" as its dupe.

When the Harding home was raided the Secret Service men found many telegrams, letters and pictures of "Cousin Everett," and "Pearl, the White House Baby." The latter photographs were autographed "From Pearl Harding the White House Baby." Some of the letters and telegrams show that "Cousin Everett" and "Pearl" were being exploited in advance of their visit to the inauguration. There are bundles of letters from girls who congratulated Pearl on her good fortune

The raiding of the Harding home was not without its thrills. Scores of neighbors assembled as the Secret Service men worked, and in the height of the excitement, "Gamaliel" made his escape, "Gamaliel" is the white and gray cat which Pearl renamed in honor of her illustrious "kinsman."

Meanwhile "Cousin Everett" languishes in the jail at Woodstock, Illinois.

WEALTHY WIDOW MISSING; ASK PUBLIC TO AID SEARCH

New York, April 6.—Public aid was enlisted yesterday in the search for Mrs. Annette Norton Rankine, wealthy widow, who has been missing since she left her automobile at the Queensboro Bridge approach last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Rankine's disappearance first became know last night when her brother, Benajmin Norton, an official of the Guaranty Trust Co., announced that a search of hospitals he had conducted had failed to reveal a clue.

Since the death of her husband, William Birch Rankine, lawyer and founder of the Niagara Falls Power Co., Mrs. Rankine had been subject, members of her family said, to fainting spells. Scouting theories of foul play, they advanced the belief that she became ill after leaving her automobile and is being cared for in some private residence.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, April 5.—More than two feet of snow covered the streets yesterday following the worst blizzard of the winter which struck here late yesterday and continued all night. The storm following the midest spring on record.

Wharton, Texas, April 6.—Wind of cyclonic force swept this town early yesterday, unroofing houses and demolishing buildings. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Our Discovery— Your Asset

Ponce de Leon, Hendrik Hudson, Edison and Marconi, each labored with the ideal of public good as his incentive for discovery.

With that same intense desire to render public service, we, too, have labored diligently in our laboratories for years to discover a formula and to create a process by which we could make an Ice Cream that would surpass in purity and nutrition any Ice Cream ever made.

Our efforts have been completely rewarded and we offer you on Friday, April 8th through your dealer, an Ice Cream which, after once trying, you will always demand---an Ice Cream produced by the totally new method that challenges the proof of the "just as good" kind.

We do NOT use gelatin, gums, starch, fillers, imitation flavors or foreign substitutes for cream---

But We DO use pure cream, pure milk, pure cane sugar and genuine flavors in "The Velvet Kind" of our creation.*

This process and formula of our own creation (patents applied for to protect our process), fortified by our standard of ingredients, gives to us the exclusive privilege of serving you the most nutritious, pure Ice Cream ever made.
